

EAST STREET BUSINESSES 1861

Some guesswork is necessary here. There are several lanes and streets leading off East Street and the census enumerator meanders about. He has numbered some of the buildings but the numbers are not sensible for our purposes, so I have ignored them. Fortunately, we have a few pubs and other landmarks that tell us roughly where buildings are, so I will mention them as he gets to them. Some of the residents may have been in the same dwelling, but are listed as separate households on the census, so it is impossible to tell if we are dealing with one building or two. In some instances I have had to guess whether an individual is employed or self-employed (carpenters, for example), as the census usually does not say: therefore, in general, I have treated them as a business only if they are listed in the trade directory of the period (although I have treated laundresses as businesses – they were presumably considered too lowly to be mentioned in the directory).

No.	Proprietor	Details
	William Brooke Master farrier	Born c.1817 Warlingham. Married 1848 Harriet Bennett (c.1821 Banstead-1887). Died 1888. Children (all born Epsom) – William (c.1851-30 November 1882; coal merchant, later beer house keeper at The Rifleman in East Street; married Sarah Coldman); Harriet (c.1853, married 1885 Arthur Wright*); Alice (1857-67). *The Wrights lived in Lambeth. In 1891 Mr Wright had 'no occupation at present' (he had died by 1901) and his wife was a tobacconist. In 1911 she was a piano teacher. Her nephew, Ernest William Brooke (son of William Junior), was living with the Wrights in 1891 and he remained with Harriet in her widowhood: he had been a traveller for a varnish manufacturer, but by 1911 he was 'disengaged'. Ernest died in 1922, leaving his small estate to Harriet.
	Edward Hope Butcher	Employed/residential
	James Easton Bricklayer	Residential
	Mrs Mary Oliver Charwoman (widow)	Residential
	Henry Jukes Cabinet maker	Born c.1833 Leintwardine, Herefordshire. Married Jane (c.1835 Croydon-1919 Croydon). They had moved to Croydon by 1871. Died 23 August 1894 Croydon. Children – Mary Jane (1860 Epsom-1946 Croydon, schoolteacher, unmarried); Alexander Henry (c.1862 Epsom-1923 Croydon, assistant schoolmaster, married Eliza Pilgrim Jackson); Emily Sarah (1863 Croydon, married farmer John Thomas Burren); Kate Alice* (c.1867 Croydon-1952 Surrey South Eastern, unmarried); Clara Esther (1869 Croydon-1961 Croydon, unmarried); Helen/Ellen Edith (1870 Croydon, married porter John Sawyer). *In 1901 Kate, formerly a domestic servant, was in an institution in Fisherton, Wiltshire, described as a pauper lunatic.
	Mrs Ann Beall Mistress baker (widow)	Nee Hill? Born c.1824? Epsom. Married 1847 baker Frederick Beall (died 1859 Epsom). Died 1914 Brentford district (lived with her daughter in Twickenham), allegedly aged 98 – her birthday was ever a movable feast*. Children (all born Epsom) – William Sevanrum/Seranium/Sevarum (1852, soldier); Sarah Ann Lucy (1854-1927 Isleworth, Middlesex; lived Twickenham, married publican Albert Ridgley); Richard Frederick (1856-1907 Portsmouth, became High Bailiff Epsom Court, later a boiler maker, married Harriett Elizabeth Galley). *Mrs Beall was another example of eternal youth. In 1861 she was 37, had progressed to 40 by 1871 and was 45 in 1881.

	Charles Smart Junior Road contractor	Born c.1831 Epsom. Married 1849 Caroline Beall (c.1833 Epsom-1863). Formerly a farmer. Died 5 June 1879, inmate of Epsom Union Workhouse. Son of Charles Smart Senior, below. Children (all born Epsom) – Emily (1851-1921, unmarried); Caroline (1852-1912?, married railway clerk Alfred James Belcher); William (1854-1910 Farnham, butcher and publican, married Alice Ellen Jordan); Annie (1856-1908, then living Thornton Heath, unmarried); Fanny* (1858, kitchenmaid, married Thomas James Wilkins); Henry (1861-1945 Caulfield, Victoria, Australia). *There were a number of spells in the workhouse for some members of this family and even in her very early teens poor Fanny found herself there, having lost her servant's job on two or three occasions, but someone usually found her another.
	Charles Smart Senior See Smart Family Retired farmer	Residential Father of Charles Smart Junior, above.
	Dwelling unoccupied
	Benjamin Braithwaite High Bailiff, County Court and Collector of Rates	Hope Cottage Residential
27	Plough and Harrow Philip Ockenden Publican (and bricklayer)	 Born c.1807 Ashted. Married 1838 Elizabeth Townsend (c.1820 Walton-1880). Possibly died 1883 Reigate district.

	Miss Jane Dodwell Schoolmistress	Albert Cottage ALBERT COTTAGE, EPSOM, Preparatory Boarding and Day School, Conducted by MISS DODWELL, who continues to impart sound instruction to a select and limited number of pupils on reasonable terms. Young Gentlemen admitted under 8 years of age. This was a very small business (total pupils = 2) but it was listed in the commercial section of the directory. Born c.1812 Cleve Piper, Wiltshire. Died 1880 Kingston district. Miss Dodwell seems to have moved to Epsom from Little Coxwell, Berkshire, where she was companion to her cousin, Miss Henrietta Dickens, and had one nine-year-old pupil. Miss Dickens died in 1855 and left her estate to Miss Dodwell.
	Thomas Roberts Retired confectioner	Residential
Here is the Gas Works
	George Richard Ratcliff Master chimney sweep (employing 2 men)	Born c.1811 St George, Hanover Square. Married Frances (c.1808 Merstham-1859). Died 22 February 1863. Child – George Richard (1839 Epsom-1901 Pancras district, accounts/merchant's clerk and latterly under-manager at a colliery, married Elizabeth Hobbs, divorced 1879*). *They had been married in 1857 and had had three children. Mrs Ratcliff claimed that after one year her husband began to use coarse language towards her and strike and kick her; he had also committed adultery with various women and was currently living with one of them. By 1881 he had married an Annie Wheeldin (twice – he originally made the error of marrying her before his divorce became absolute) and was living in Nottingham. It looks as if, after four more children, he left his family. In 1901 he was living in a large working men's 'hotel' in the Gray's Inn Road, claiming that he was a widower, which he was not (Annie died in 1928). In 1858 George had been sentenced to 2 years' imprisonment at the Old Bailey for some hanky-panky with cheques at his workplace. And in 1890 a notice appeared in the newspapers offering a 'liberal reward' for a death certificate for one George Richard Ratcliff, also known as Willson. The enquirer's name was not given but the Greenwich address suggests that it may have been connected with the former Mrs Ratcliff, who was in that area.
	Richard Rogers Gardener	Residential
	William Wren Carpenter	Probably employed/residential.
	Joseph Rogers Gardener	Residential

	Miss Hannah Gittings (and children) Housekeeper	Garden House Residential. Mistress of Timothy Barnard Senior.
	Charles Young Nurseryman	Residential
	John Bowrah Railway guard	Residential
	William Pincott Railway porter	Residential
	Mrs Mary Cook Lodging house keeper (widow)	Technically this is a business but many people took in lodgers so they have not been treated as businesses.
	John Sanders Gardener	Residential

	George Smith Dods Nurseryman and seedsman	Born c.1825 Scotland, came from Stainton, Prestonkirk, East Lothian. Married 1857 Mary Ann Lewis (c.1824 Dilwyn, Herefordshire). Died 26 July 1864 Epsom. I don't know what happened to Mrs Dods, apart from the fact that in 1871 she was a lodger in Lambeth. Grave of George Smith Dods in St Martin's Churchyard. Joseph Ransley Tanton, who landscaped Epsom Cemetery, took over these premises and, when he died, the Morse family (see below) moved in.
	Samuel Mather Resident engineer	Waterworks
	Charles Reeve Dairyman	Rose Cottage Not listed as a business.
	Mrs Catherine Brooks Former cow keeper (widow)	Residential
Here are Linton's Lane and East Lane (called Middle Lane on the map) and then the enumerator returns to East Street via Linton's Lane.

79 (in 1900)	Richard Buckland The Locomotive Butcher and publican	 Born 1815 Reigate. Married 1850 Mary Ann Ottaway (c.1816 London). Died 1862. Children (all born Epsom) – Robert (c.1852-probably 1903, inmate of Epsom Workhouse, labourer); Eliza (c.1854); Emily (c.1856); Henry (1859, in the Workhouse by 1871). Emily was also in the Workhouse a couple of times and Robert and Henry were frequent inmates. I cannot find a definite death record for Mrs Buckland but I imagine that she died before the children grew up and they were left on their own.
	Richard Middleton Railway engine driver	Residential
	Richard Fillery Coal and wood merchant	Born 1804 Morden. Married Harriet (died 1850, aged 43) and then married 1851 widow Charlotte Neal (c.1800 Petersfield, Hampshire-1879). They had moved to Kingston by 1871, but returned to Epsom, living in Linton's Lane. Died 1881. Children – Richard (born and died 1836); Harriet Emily (1845 Epsom-1916 Epsom, unmarried, sometime inmate of Workhouse).
	Thomas Rose Bricklayer's labourer	Residential
	Mrs Caroline Dodd	Laburnum Cottage Residential
	Miss Caroline A Davies Annuitant	Residential
	James Gillam Currier and leather cutter	Born c.1785 Odiham, Hampshire. Married Mary (c.1782 Molesey-1867). Died 1870. Both buried at the Bugby Chapel, Prospect Place.

	Samuel Cropper Lace and ribbon merchant	Eagle Cottages Born c.1832 Nottingham. Married Sarah Ann Wright (1833 Nottingham-1970 Epsom) and then married 1871 her sister Decima (1844 Nottingham-1937 Hendon). By 1881 they had moved to Hackney and Mr Cropper was calling himself an 'American Merchant'. Ultimately ran a box manufacturing company. Died 1 April 1907 Horsham, Sussex. Children – Sarah Jane (1856 New York-1914 New South Wales, married William Henry Ullmann); Horace John (1857 Nottingham-1945 Weybridge, architect, married Annie Murray); William Singleton (c.1860 Nottingham-1885 Petersham, NSW); Shirley Wright [male] (1861 Epsom-1947, then living Hove; married Gertrude Annie Smith); Digby Leopold (1863 Epsom-1953, then living Hove, cardboard box manufacturer, married Amy Florence Cropper); Samuel Clement (1865 Epsom-1936 Manly, NSW of cancer and tuberculosis; married Louisa Jane Seymour [born Sydney]); Claude Worthington (c.1866 Epsom-1876 Hackney); Alice Daphne (c.1869 Epsom-1914 Horsham, unmarried); Leonard Ambrose (born and died 1870); Decima Mary (c.1873 Addiscombe-1953 London, married Frank M Jarrett); Ada (c.1874 Addiscombe); Constance (c.1874 Addiscombe-1960, then living Frinton-on-Sea, Essex; unmarried); Beatrice Julia (1875 Addiscombe-1955 Alameda, California; married Welshman Arthur C Bright); Gertrude Agnes (1879 Islington-1963 Malvern, Worcestershire; married Ernest Leggott Stockall) . In 1911 Samuel Junior described himself as Coveyancer of the Supreme Court of New South Wales, although he was living in Sutton at the time.
	Mrs Sarah B Macdonald Annuitant (widow)	Eagle Cottages
	John Bleaden Keeper of The Monument, London	Eagle Cottages Mr Bleaden was getting on in age and one wonders if his duties included climbing the 311 steps of The Monument to inspect the viewing platform!

SOUTH SIDE, RUNNING WEST TO EAST

At this stage the shops immediately adjacent to the East Street railway bridge had not been built, so that the first buildings shown on the census were Railway Cottages (later Clayton Road), running at right angles to East Street. The first building in East Street proper was Clayton House.

	William Finch Schoolmaster (private)	Clayton House (later Mittendorff House) Born c.1799 Tonbridge, Kent. Married Sarah (c.1802 East Grinstead). By 1871 they had retired to East Grinstead, with Mr Finch stated as suffering from chronic disease. Died 1881 East Grinstead. Child – Eliza (c.1823 Godstone or East Grinstead-1902 Edmonton district, married joiner William Gedge – their son, Charles, then aged 13, was a pupil teacher at Mr Finch's school in 1861).
